LADIES' AID MEETING

Cannel City, Ky.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Cannel City Union Church met with Mrs. K. K. Spencer July 21, 1938.

Members present were: Mrs. K. K. Spencer, Mrs. Tom Davis, Miss Nancy Benton, Miss Emily Spencer, Mrs. Mike Benton, Miss Wilma Faulkner, Mrs. Inez Donovan, Mrs. Carl Sebastian, Mrs. Tom Stamper, Mrs. Asa Carter and Mrs. Clyde Wells. Visitors present were Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. Earl Haney, who in turn told us something about Washington, where they had been living for the past ten months.

The hymn was, "What a Friend." Mrs. Tom Stamper read as the devotional, Psalm 29, after which Mrs. Asa Carter led in prayer. Then we had the reading of the minutes and the roll call.

As we had nothing ready to work on during the meeting we made plans for an all day meeting to meet with Mrs. Katie Sebastian.

During the social hour the hostess assisted by Miss Emily Spencer and Miss Nancy Benton served very nice watermelon.

After a very pleasant afternoon we adjourned to meet with Mrs. Clyde Wells August 4, 1938. MRS. CLYDE WELLS, Secretary.

MISSIONARY MEETING

The Women's Missionary Society met for regular July meeting at the home of Mrs. J. R. Kendall. The president, Mrs. W. A. Caskey, took the chair. The hymn sang was, "Take Time to be Holy." Meditation by president, Mrs. T. H. Caskey had charge of the devotion. Subject was, "Bringing Korea to Christ." Prayer by Mrs. J. D. Whiteaker.

As the roll was called each member answered with a Scripture verse. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

One spiritual life group reported active, 34 visits to sick and $12.00 donations. The Society was dismissed by Bro. Garriott. The hostess served a delightful lunch. 15 members were present.

New Business Property

A new business property for Main Street was made possible this week when Mrs. Auty McClain sold her one story frame structure occupied by Sam Ashley and J. M. Elam to Dr. A. P. Gullett. Dr. Gullett will dismantle the old structure and build a stone and brick business structure on the premises. This is a fine business site and it is expected that the various businesses in which members of the Gullett family are engaged will occupy this building when completed.

Has Corrigan Autograph

Inez Combs of near Ezel has the signature of Douglas Corrigan an Irish-American aviator who last week flew to Ireland from New York "by mistake." Last fall Corrigan, en route from the west to the east coast, landed in a field near the Combs home and obliged Miss Inez with his signature in her autograph album.

Back in West Liberty

W. K. Childers, a native of Morgan County but for some years past a resident of Columbus, Ohio, has returned to West Liberty and expects to go into some kind of business here.

Misses Carrie and Iris Mae Adams and their cousin, Charles Ray Wells, returned home with their cousin, Aaron Patrick, and brother of near Lexington and visited a week returning home Sunday.

Bobby Stafford is clerking in the IGA as Mrs. Ina Fannin is unable to be at her post on account of illness. Her pleasant and very efficient service is greatly missed.

GROWTH OF A NATION

Washington, D. C.—Deleware recently celebrated the settlement by the Swedes in that State three hundred years ago. Delaware was the first State to ratify the Constitution. Ohio reminds us by its automobile tags that it escaped British captivity in the Northwest Territory 150 years ago when it was ceded to the United States. Eight presidents have come from Ohio. California and Texas came to the United States less than a hundred years ago.

Every State has contributed its thrilling chapter of growth and development through the years. They have all come by way of the primitive forests and unsettled lands, to find places of importance in a growing Nation. That Nation began with a narrow strip of 13 quarreling States along the Atlantic seaboard, and those States were unwilling to submit to Federal control.

The early pioneers crossed the Continent by traveling for several months, or they sailed around the Horn and back. It took a year or two. They had no visions of Our Future, when fresh citrus fruits from Florida and California would find their way to breakfast tables in every State. How could they contemplate the future of Muscle Shoals, Niagara and Columbia Rivers, or Boulder Dam?

Steamships began using fuel oil and electric drivers 30 years ago; railroads have very recently recognized the value of Diesel engines.

The automobile ranks first in transportation though it was a mere infant in 1900. Before a single wheel turns in any motor manufacturing plant, the purchases have already begun in the process of moving money to Main Street.

The far-stretches of space and time have been brought closer by modern transportation and communication. In consequence neighbors and customers are no longer the few who live in the narrow spaces of a single community—they spread out into every nook and corner of a Nation that had its simple beginnings in Virginia, Massachusetts and Delaware. Finally the family of a Nation was complete when Arizona and New Mexico were born. Today we are the most progressive Nation in the World with 130,000,000 people—contrasted to less than 4,000,000 when George Washington pushed off as top-man of the new Government.

To Exchange Homes

Mrs. Auty McClain has purchased of Goebel Ratliff the Ed Day residence on West Main Street and expects to remodel it and then move to it probably about September 1. Mrs. McClain feels that she is going home as she had lived in this residence for an extended period on two previous occasions. Mr. Ratliff now occupying the building will move as a renter to Mrs. McClain's Water Street residence, which has taken on city airs during Mr. and Mrs. McClain's occupancy.

Here From Florida

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Daniel and little daughter, Dale, of Miami, Florida, spent a few days with Mr. Daniel's aunts, Misses Florence and Josephine McGuire, leaving Sunday afternoon to visit for a few days with his father, T. J. Daniel, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. C. Daniel, at Oil Springs. They will leave for Miami the latter part of the week, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Long and Mr. Daniel's sister, Mrs. Charles Reese, at Kingsport, Tennessee, en route.

Miss Venus Watson, who has had her home since a child with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Short at Index, has been ill for some time. Two weeks ago she was taken to the Golden Rule Hospital at Paintsville and operated on. A thirty pound tumor was removed. Her many friends are rejoicing that she is being restored to health. She is being brought home today.

Mrs. Jesse Adams and little daughter and husband and her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griggs and Roger Adams went to Bath County, where they visited her daughter, Mrs. Willard Short and family. Mrs. Adams and Norma Jean returned home Sunday. The others drove to Forest, Ohio, where they will visit relatives.

The M. E. Missionary Society were delighted last Thursday to have Mrs. J. D. Whiteaker of Cannel City with them. Mrs. Whiteaker is a member but so seldom can attend.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

A selfish policy pays scant dividends.

Almost any candidate can explain to you why he will be elected.

People who sit up late at night rarely ever get up early in the mornings.

People who pay cash seldom worry about bills on the first of the month. An automobile is a fine thing until it balks on a lonely road, on a hot day.

Honesty is the best policy, because, at the end, it pays the biggest dividends.

The easiest money that a man can make comes from minding his own business.

Sometimes a business man gets rich by merely paying attention to his business.

The full and free expression of personality would probably please many people today.

Add editorial worries: "Mr. Editor, I have a fine news story which I will send you next week."

We know a man who finds it hard to work. His office is too hot in summer and too cold in the winter.

There are many efficient ways to assist individuals to remember, but no system aids you in forgetting.

We know people who believe that nature presents no finer sight than a full moon on a summer's night.

The most favorable comment that a newspaper can get is a subscription renewal or an advertising order.

Very often, when a business fails to take advertising seriously, the people fail to take his business seriously.

The metropolitan idea is that farmers should feed and clothe the world, even if they have to do it at a loss.

When a man says, "let's be fair," you might as well watch him. The chances are he is trying to work you for the edge.

With the nation's sixteenth census coming up in two years, town boosters will begin to edge on population claims.

Modern fable: Once upon a time there was a man who built a house and it did not cost him anything more than he expected.

The Chinese and Japanese may not be waging an official war, but in case they ever start one, it ought to be worth watching.

Individuals working for religious organizations often associate the progress of religion with the prosperity of their organization.

By the way, how much did the American people contribute when the Red Cross asked them for a million dollars to aid starving Chinese?

The average thinker is plagued by so many writers who present so many facts that he finds it difficult to know what, if anything, to believe.

Hitler may fight, but he won't fight unless he thinks he can win. The chief business of the democracies is to convince him that he cannot win.

There are adults all over the United States worrying themselves sick over the younger generation when they ought to be worrying about themselves.

The nation, in political years, is like Gaul—divided into three parts: office-holders, would-be-office-holders and those who expect to be office-holders in the future.

Admiration and respect for the United States will not prevent other powers from seizing advantages in South America if they think they can get by the American fleet.

If you don't think that times change, just imagine what the public would have thought of a modern girl, in a one-piece bathing suit, thirty years ago.

There are some people who still talk about the law of supply and demand, as if they are unaware that practically every government and business association in the world are interfering with its operation.

WALDECK

Mrs. Perry Anne Waldeck, widow of Dr. J. M. Waldeck, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Setta Pieratt, Bethel, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock following several years of failing health.

Funeral services were held at Mrs. Pieratt's home in Bethel, Monday morning with burial at the Ezel Cemetery, Monday afternoon by the side of her husband, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Waldeck was Miss Perry Anne Howerton, daughter of Perry Howerton and Sarah Ann Cottle Howerton, born in Morgan County on January 26, 1852, and was married to Dr. J. M. Waldeck on March 18, 1869, at the home of her stepfather, J. H. McGuire.

She was the mother of thirteen children, twelve of whom lived to maturity, and nine of whom survive: James Waldeck, Bly, Oregon; Mrs. Lawrence Alexander, Flemingsburg; Mrs. O. P. Perry and Forest Waldeck, Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Candia Moore, Cleveland, Ohio; Ollie Waldeck, Rover Rouge, Michigan; Hord Waldeck, Hazard; Mrs. Setta Pieratt, Bethel; and Mrs. Stanley Dennis, West Liberty. She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Harve Ward, Maytown; and Mrs. I. S. Williams, Malone; and one brother, C. M. McGuire, St. Mary's, Kansas.

She became a member of the Christian church when a girl. For the last few years she had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Pieratt, at Bethel, but spent most of her life in Morgan County, having lived at West Liberty, White Oak, and Ezel. She leaves many relatives and friends here as well as in Bethel.

STAMP

Mrs. Susan Stamp, 62, wife of the late Samuel Stamp, died at her home in Blackey, July 18. She had been in ill health for the past several weeks but became seriously ill Friday night, living only a short while.

Mrs. Stamp was born in Lee County, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sparks, January 8, 1876. She was married to Richard Edwards in 1899, and to this union was born two children. She was married to Samuel Stamp in 1897, who preceded her in death nineteen months ago. To this union was born six children. They lived several years in Morgan County.

Besides her children she is survived by five sisters of Harlan County and Middletown, Ohio. The children are: Mrs. Perry Henry of Woodbend; Robert Edwards of Hapgy; Goebel Stamp, Stone; Mrs. Bill Whitaker of Browns Branch, Mo.; Mrs. Pete Dichofo, Trenton, Ohio; Miss Hazel Stamp and Mr. Arthur Stamp of Middletown, Ohio; and Edna Lillian who lived with her mother. She is survived by thirteen grandchildren, also.

Funeral services were held in the Doermann Memorial Presbyterian Church by Rev. H. L. Cockerham. She had been a member of this church for the past seventeen years, joining it soon after the family moved to Blackey. Interment was in the Rich Whitaker Cemetery at Rockhouse, July 19.

Mrs. Stamp was a devout Christian and served her Master in her daily walks. She was ever ready to serve her friends and neighbors and more than glad to do her share in anything.

Mrs. P. C. Henry of Woodbend was with her mother, Mrs. Samuel Stamp, at Blackey, during the last week of her illness. Mr. Henry joined her for the funeral and they returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Berlin Stacy and little son, Richie Morris, have moved into their new home in Bayes Addition. The young people gave them a pound party in honor of the occasion.

Little Frances Ann Stacy and her parents and W. M. Gardner enjoyed a grand chicken dinner with all its trimmings in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yandal Wratther, Sunday.

The young people gave Mr. and Mrs. Charley Franklin a nice pound-party one evening last week and enjoyed a social hour with them in their new home near Lee Bayes.

Mrs. Edgar Wells and daughters, Joyce, Laura and Janis, returned Monday after several days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morris, at Stacy Fork.

FARMERS' COLUMN

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Grant county dealers are stocking materials for heating tobacco barns, in response to wide interest in improved methods of curing. Several modern barns have been built and many have been remodeled to include ventilating systems.

Hundreds of acres of crimson clover and Italian rye grass were sown at the last cultivation of corn in Harlan county. Ten pounds of each seed were used to the acre. Dr. H. K. Buttermore plans to sow 200 acres of grass this year, some in corn and the rest on idle land.

Taylor county farmers averaged $10.75 per 100 pounds on 327 pooled lambs. The lambs were docked and castrated and fed in creeps. They averaged 85 cents a hundred over "bucky" lambs, and topped the market by 50 cents.

Clinton county farmers are in the market for beef cattle breeding stock. Dyer and Upchurch of Albany have purchased 30 Angus heifers and a highly bred sire, and plan to build one of the largest and best herds in Southern Kentucky.

Six Campbell county flock owners who kept records in May found 51 cents a dozen to the feed cost of eggs. The hens averaged 18 eggs, or an average of 22 cents each. The six farmers had a profit of $180 from their chickens for the month.

Four carloads of individually selected ewes were purchased by Lincoln county farmers, to be used principally to replace ewes culled out of flocks. The organization of a county protective association has stimulated interest in sheep.

WINTER RADISHES

A pleasing addition to any garden would be winter radishes. True, most gardeners make fall sowings of radishes, spring seed left-overs, but the supply is rarely adequate.

Winter radishes, on the other hand, are definitely a fall crop, sown with a definite purpose in mind, that of storing them for the winter in the same manner that turnips are stored. Special varieties are used, Rose Chinese, White Chinese and Black Spanish. Most seedsmen carry them, or can get them, if reminded.

The time to sow is during August. Because of the great length of these radishes, the seed bed should be turned deeply spaded and well prepared all the way down. Winter radishes may follow any crop in the garden but cabbage, early radishes, turnips and green of the cabbage family; part of the early potato ground would do nicely. The seed should be dropped more thinly than for the smaller radishes but covered lightly, half-inch. Radish ground, it should go without saying, should not be unduly "rich" with manure, else they will "go to top."

At seeding stage sometimes the fleabeetles are troublesome; Bordeaux mixture is the control. Later, the cabbage worm may come. Although usually the loss of leaf tissue is not serious to the radishes, occasionally the worm on cabbage will suffice.

Winter radishes endure quite low temperatures, but whenever it is the custom to lift the turnips it is intended to store, then radishes should be pulled, too, and handled thereafter in exactly the same manner winter turnips are, for their storing is identical.

FALL LETTUCE

To produce head lettuce, true heading varieties should be used. While there are several that perform satisfactorily, New York or Wonderful is best.

The seed should be sown about August 1, in a spot shaded half the day, in well prepared, crumbly soil only moderately rich. When the seedlings have four leaves they should be set in a cold frame which is filled with soil, two parts, and well-rotted manure one part. The spacing should be 8 or 10 inches each way. If the frame is in a sunny location, it is wise to construct a shade screen, two feet or so above the top of the frame, so that air may freely pass. This may be a light frame over which tobacco canvas is stretched, or slats of wood or tree trimmings may be used to make a broken shade.

As necessary, watering should be done to keep growth going at top speed and two or even three side-dressings of nitrate of soda should be given, at the rate of one pound to 100 plants.

About October 1, the first heads will be ready. At about this time, too, the screen may be removed and when frosts start, the bed should be covered at night with canvas, or better, with glass sash. As the season becomes colder, the cover may be left on during most of the day as well, though occasional airing should be given if sash is used. The sign is the "sweating" of the glass. At this time, growth will have stopped, but the lettuce will remain in prime condition until used, or until the frame or its cover proves inadequate for the weather, grown colder and colder.

TIME TO SOW ALFALFA

August is a good time to sow alfalfa in Kentucky, according to the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington. A good seed bed can be had then, and the alfalfa can get a start without much trouble from weeds.

Where a field is being seeded to alfalfa for the first time, the seed should be inoculated. Commercial cultures may be used, or pulverized soil from an old alfalfa field may be mixed with slightly moistened seed.

A clover and grass seed drill gives best seeding results. Broadcasting after a cultipacker or drag harrow is considered satisfactory. Where drilled, 10 to 12 pounds of seed to the acre is sufficient; if broadcast, 15 pounds should be used.

FARM PROGRAM

Farm supervisors for the Agricultural Conservation Program in this county are now taking their training. These men are taking 3 days training before going to work. Every man will be required to pass an examination before going out to the field. Instructions and examination is under the supervision of the State Agricultural Conservation Office.

It is hoped that these men will start work in this county, Monday, August 1. Each farmer should make an effort to cooperate with the supervisors to the fullest extent as the success of the program depends very largely on the work of the supervisor and the farmer while on the farm.

A series of meetings for the purpose of explaining the practices to be carried out and the work of the supervisors, will probably start during the week of August 8. Every farmer should make an effort to earn 100% of his soil-building goal this year. YANDAL WRATHER, County Agent.

AN ORDINANCE

Annexing Certain Territory to the Town of West Liberty, Kentucky, and Fixing the Boundaries of Said Town so as to Include Said Annexed Territory.

The Board of Trustees of the Town of West Liberty, Kentucky, do ordain as follows:

Sec. 1. That the boundaries of the Town of West Liberty, Kentucky, be amended and changed so as to include all of the property in the following boundary; and that all of the property in the following described boundary which is not now in the corporate limits of the Town of West Liberty, Kentucky, be annexed and included therein and the corporate limits of the said town extended so as to include all of said boundary; and that the said boundaries of the Town of West Liberty, Kentucky, be changed so as to read as follows:

About three months ago a bee stung Mr. Frank Green on the left temple, since which time his condition has been very painful and almost serious. For two months he was confined to his bed and during that time he lost the sight of his eye, his vision still being very much impaired. The exquisite technique of Marc Antony was there, in the way he yes-butted Chandler; all the "he is an honorable man" business, to build up a cloudburst of faint praise with which to wash an opponent down the drain—the one in this case who had dared challenge the presidential favorite, Dear Alben.—Cincinnati Post.

Six states and Alaska have more than 100 ports and fields each. SHEEP

S. S. Oldfield, Index, Kentucky, and L. W. Blankenship, Mize, Kentucky, bought 45 head of western sheep, Monday, July 25. These sheep came from Idaho. These are the black-faced western sheep.

Anyone interested in getting sheep should by all means see these sheep before buying. Several more farmers are planning on purchasing western sheep. As the supply of these black-faced western sheep is diminishing very rapidly it is advisable that you make arrangements for purchasing these sheep at once. 80,000 of these sheep have already been placed in Kentucky. Thomas Burchett, a native son of the Eighth District, was born and reared on a farm in Carter County and knows the needs of the farmers. He taught school for a number of years and worked his way through the University of Kentucky, where he was graduated with a Bachelor of Laws degree.

He is a World War Veteran with a battle field record and an active member of the American Legion. He will continue to work and fight for the veterans, their widows and orphans. As an active practicing lawyer of the Boyd County Bar for the past seventeen years, he has served his county two terms as County Attorney and declined to run for a third term. He is taking no sides in the Senatorial fight. He can unite the party and win in November.

He will support the President and fight to bring back better times and conditions in his district and the nation. His slogan, "More jobs, work and better times."

He is able, clean, fair, honest, and is making this race upon his own merits and solicits your investigation of his record as a private citizen and public official.

The Issue

Cold, case-hardened figures, compiled over a period of years reveal:

THAT Kentucky has not received the benefits, due her from the Federal Government, in proportion to the revenue paid by the State.

THAT Kentucky has been grossly discriminated against by Federal legislation.

THAT the farmer, the laborer, the veteran, and all of the people of the State, have been the victims of these discriminations.

THAT those benefits due Kentucky have either been swapped off to other States in return for personal favors, or

THE SENIOR SENATOR FROM KENTUCKY LACKS ABILITY AND PERSONALITY TO GET FOR KENTUCKY THAT WHICH IS KENTUCKY'S.

Achievement—Or Ruin?

Today Kentucky stands at the top of the states in modern business-like government. Her Reorganization Act is the envy of every other state; the progress made under "Happy" Chandler has attracted nation-wide admiration and approval: Better schools, modern institutions, fine state and rural highways; a pay-as-you-go financial set-up and a HUGE STATE DEBT that is almost a THING OF THE PAST.

DO YOU INTEND THAT THESE THINGS SHALL BE UNDONE AND THE FUTURE OF KENTUCKY MADE UNCERTAIN.

Know The Facts

Barkley never aided in writing the Old Age Pension Bill. He did not write any part of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. He has nothing to do with whether or not the farmer shall receive a "Cut-out" check.

IF HE HAS BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY OF THESE THINGS ASK HIM TO QUOTE YOU THE SECTION OF THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD IN PROOF.

Barkley did forget the farmer and the Old Folk on certain pieces of legislation as the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD will show. He voted against low interest rates and a moratorium for farmers and against a Federal increase for Old Age Pensioners.

More Issue

BARKLEY has delivered himself into the hands of Tom Rhea, the man who bolted the Democratic Party in 1935, and Selden Glenn, head of the Bi-partisan combine, and Ruby Laffoon, the sales tax governor.

This group ran Kentucky into virtual bankruptcy; ruined the State's credit; shamefully neglected State institutions and failed to heed the needs of the people.

THIS GROUP, ousted in 1935, is attempting to regain control of Kentucky.

KENTUCKY'S BLACK SHAME has been blotted out by "Happy" Chandler's honest, courageous, business-like administration.

DO YOU WANT TOM RHEA, SELDEN GLENN AND RUBY LAFFOON BACK IN POWER TO WRECK THE FINEST STATE GOVERNMENTAL STRUCTURE EVER BUILT?

MOVING FORWARD

I hope every patron in Morgan County will do their utmost to help build for our county a better school system. Most of you, I am sure, are aware of the fact that 26 rural schools started July 18th and will continue for a period of seven months. The enrollment from reports received was excellent and better enrollment is anticipated. I hope every citizen in Morgan County will realize the importance of regular attendance on the part of the children. Ninety per cent of all the people in our jails and penitentiaries cannot read and write and do not have above a second grade education. If you find a community in which all are educated, you find a community well off financially and socially. The patrons who satisfy themselves with excuses, etc., in not sending their children to school are committing a great in-humane act. The little children don't know what is best for them and will stay out of school if they are permitted to have their own way. Our free textbooks are being furnished up to the eighth grade for all the children in the county, which has certainly eliminated one of our great problems. Within the next few years we feel assured that there will be school bus service offered to nearly every section of the county.

The board of education will place two sixty-passenger busses in operation in the county this year. The bus route will go from Canney City to Index, Chapel and Woodbend and back to West Liberty to the Magoffin County line, and from West Liberty to Hollar Poplar to Wrigley and back to West Liberty. In 1940 the board of education contemplates placing four busses in operation in this county. It will mean that most every boy and girl in the county will be able to attend high school without having to pay board and room. The teachers of the county are urged to notify the county superintendent of those who contemplate entering any one of the high schools in the county, in order that ample room may be supplied to service them. The Morgan County Board of Education is glad to announce to the teachers and people of this county that Morgan County will have a health unit this year to look after the health and sanitary conditions of all the children of the county. The health nurse has arrived and is ready to start work in communities where typhoid cases have developed. We hope that the teachers and citizens will give their wholehearted cooperation to the health Doctor and Nurse.

The National Youth Administration will provide school aid for those needy children who are over 16 years of age desirous of attending school. The money will be used for the purchase of books, clothes, and transportation. All of the teachers along the highways are requested to report to the county superintendent's office on forms supplied to them the name, grade and ages of all pupils desirous of attending school. We hope the teachers will give this phase immediate consideration.

Mr. Moss Walton, Director of Census and Attendance has recently informed Mr. W. O. Pelfrey, Attendance Officer of Morgan County, that the compulsory attendance law in the State of Kentucky must be enforced. Those who fail to send their children to school with legal excuse which will not be determined by us but by the courts will have to suffer the penalty for violation of this law. The NYA is providing a works program for out-of-school boys and girls between the ages of 18 and 25. They must come from relief families. Word has just been received from the NYA Headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky, that a resident training camp will be located at West Liberty, the first one to be located in the State. The Morgan County Board of Education is to provide housing and room for these girls and they will receive so much a month and be offered training in the various phases of home life. This program will provide training for Morgan County girls who can qualify who live in the very remote sections of the county and cannot reach the training work centers. The NYA feels that young boys and girls should have training to become good mothers and fathers. The Morgan County Board of Education has passed certain rules and regulations that the teachers must meet. They must file health certificates with the Morgan County Board of Education. From now on they may obtain them from the County Health Doctor which will be free. Furthermore it is a rule and regulation of the board of education that every teacher take the Licking Valley Courier which has the school page in order that information and news may be disseminated to all the teachers in the county. The school page will be a very interesting item in the paper this year because a definite news staff has been set up. Any teacher having any news item from her community is encouraged to send them in.

The Morgan County Board of Education has just been informed by the University of Kentucky that in collaboration with the WPA technical workers they plan to install a broadcasting station at West Liberty for the purpose of sending to each rural school education programs. Receiving sets will be provided by the University of Kentucky for each individual rural school. Teachers and children will be permitted to come in and broadcast over the station on high frequency. The Representative from the University of Kentucky was here for about two hours Saturday working out this system. The Morgan County Board of Education is to assume no financial responsibility except to cooperate in providing the programs. This station will be able to pick up WHAS, WLAP and the programs over the National Broadcasting System and reamply through this transmitter to the various schools in the county. This broadcasting station will permit children who excel in the various fields to appear and broadcast. Principals and teachers will be asked from time to time to make short talks concerning various phases of the teaching profession. You will be informed more in detail in about six weeks concerning developments of this program. We extend our appreciation to the University of Kentucky for giving us the first chance to experiment in the use of broadcasting systems for educational purposes.

OVA O. HANEY, Superintendent Morgan County Schools.

TEACHER'S CONFERENCE

The annual Teacher's Conference for Morgan County Schools was held in the gymnasium of the Morgan County High School Tuesday, and Wednesday of last week. The program was very interesting and the teachers showed much enthusiasm.

Tuesday morning Dr. Paul S. Powell of Kentucky Wesleyan College, gave an excellent talk entitled "Character First." He spoke of the need of character training in our schools and of ways of developing it. This was Dr. Powell's first visit to our conference and judging from the way his address was received, it will not be his last.

Dr. John W. Brooker, Director of School Buildings and Grounds, of Frankfort, discussed, "Morgan County's Building Program." He spoke of our new school buildings and how they had been built from a standpoint of safety and other modern devices.

Tuesday afternoon, Dr. Clarence E. Nickell of the Morehead State Teacher's College spoke on, "The Teacher's Attitude Toward Compulsory Attendance, Continuous Census, and Keeping of Records." He urged all teachers to encourage attendance and to cooperate with their attendance supervisor, W. O. Pelfrey, Dr. Judd of the Morehead State Teacher's College gave a splendid address on, "The Earmarks of Progress." Dr. Jones of the Eastern State Teacher's College, discussed the "Social Side of Education."

We all know B. E. Whitt's mania for speech making and after hearing all of these celebrities he gave a thrilling speech on the "Progress of Our Schools."

On Wednesday morning several of our local teachers and school officials appeared on the program. W. L. Carpenter told very effectively "How to Develop School Spirit," and Forest Lacy discussed "Effective School Discipline." Mr. Haney discussed plans for the ensuing school year and made an earnest appeal to his teachers to labor diligently to carry out the objectives set for Morgan County Schools this year, and to take special care of the free text books. He spoke of the loss and destruction of many of the books last year and made it imperative that a closer check up be made this year.

W. O. Pelfrey explained how to keep the new record books and urged the teachers to cooperate with him in getting all children within the compulsory school age to attend school.

A very interesting feature of the conference was the music which was directed by Joe Marshall, our Public School Music Teacher and Band Director. He comes to us highly recommended, having won national recognition in instrumental music and band directing.

Coal Bids Wanted

The Morgan County Board of Education will receive sealed coal bids for all of the schools up to and including August 13. Bidders must place bid for each school. He may bid on as many as he can furnish. State price per bushel. Stone coal preferred. All coal must be delivered by September 24.

T. H. CASKEY, Chairman, OVA O. HANEY, Superintendent.

Good news first in the Courier.

THE SCHOOL, THE CHILD, AND THE PARENT

It has been said that the three institutions that determine the child's destiny are the home, the church and the school. Each of these do play an important part in character building and citizenship and if either of these institutions fail to function in the life of the child he is prohibited from living at life's highest level.

During the first five years of the child's life his training comes mainly from the home and the church, mostly from the home because, except for the hour he probably spends once a week at Sunday school his training comes from the home. Here his parents labor, plan, and perhaps spend sleepless nights that their progeny may have equal chance in the struggle of life but that equal chance does not come during the first five years of life. Parents differ, homes differ, and fortune smiles on one and frowns on another so that some of the brightest children with the purest vein of Anglo-Saxon blood must, because of adverse circumstances, be deprived of the home training the parents would like to give, for the father must toil all day long to provide the necessities of life and the mother with double domestic duties is too tired when night comes to give the children the training she longs to give them so she must be content to lie still and slumber until night turns to dawn.

But when the child becomes six years of age the scene changes and that glorious institution known as the elementary school begins to function. It reaches out to the rich and the poor alike and takes up the training of the child where the parents left off. This institution trains the child six hours daily exerting every effort to train it physically, morally, and intellectually. Its chief function is to teach the child to do more effectively the things it will do anyway and to bring about such useful changes as will better fit the child for society. Just what success the school will have in developing character and in fitting this child for a successful business career will depend largely on the amount of time he spends in school and just what he does while there. In order to derive the highest benefits from school activities the child must be prompt and regular in attendance and must have a receptive mind toward the principles and problems the school has to offer.

If the teacher has your child six hours daily for twenty-eight weeks out of the year, and if that child is loyal to the school program, and if you as parents cooperate with the school that is functioning for the welfare of the child you love, I feel confident in saying that your child is making progress and that when the school year closes you will look at the closed door of that noble institution with a vague longing for it to open again.

Cooperation is the keynote to success in all the affairs of life and it is especially essential in the successful administration of a school. As I said before, it is for your child that the school actually exists and you are an important part of the school and much of its success depends on how well you play your part. Here are some of the things that you as parents can do to make the school in your community profitable and effective.

First you can see to it that your child has every opportunity to attend school regularly. Sacrifice yourself that your child may have a better chance in life than you have had. See that he is not robbed of a single day of training that his school offers. Every day that your child misses school he is losing moments that add living and earning power.

Second you can cooperate with the teacher who is vitally interested in the welfare of your child. There is nothing that encourages a teacher more than knowing that the parents appreciate her efforts and are willing to cooperate with her. Not long ago I met one of my patrons who said to me, "you won't know what to do without all your little pupils when school is out, will you?" I replied, "No, and I'll miss my parents almost as much as my pupils. You have all cooperated so well that I hope I have more parents like you next year."

That statement was true. If my school work was successful last year my patrons helped to make it so for when I needed their cooperation I got it and if things went wrong they were soon righted. So you as parents can help much by showing a friendly attitude toward the teacher and her work. Visit the school often and see what is being done for your child. The teacher solicits your help and cooperation—without it she cannot succeed.

Concluding let me say that I feel that glorious educational opportunities surround your child today and that the schools of our county are doing their part to make the children of today better citizens of tomorrow.

TO ORGANIZE BAND

The Morgan County Board of Education has employed Joseph J. Marshall from Marion, Indiana, as Public School Music Director and Band Director. Mr. Marshall has received national recognition in both instrumental playing and instrumental al conduction. He has just recently been employed by the Federal Government to assist in developing an adult band and work activities in this county and adjoining county. We are very glad to have Mr. Marshall here for the summer in order that we might obtain instruments and have an idea of the number of en-rollees in the band. He is very anxious for every patron to be present at a meeting to be held Thursday night, July 28th at 7:00 in the library room of the new high school building.

Mr. Marshall is anxious for all those who are in school and interested in playing education in the public schools. It is further required that they be of good health, sound mind, and between the ages of six and eighteen years.

Prepared to know whether you can buy instruments or not. Plans for the purchasing of band suits will be discussed at a future date. Please remember the time and place of this meeting. Very sincerely yours,

OVA O. HANEY, Superintendent, Morgan County Schools.

SENATOR ALBEN W. BARKLEY

A FRIEND IN NEED

President Roosevelt said in his speech at Covington:

"Senator Barkley has taken a MAJOR PART in shaping not only the LEGISLATION but the ACTUAL POLICIES of these past six years!"

"Senator Barkley fought valiantly AGAINST DOING NOTHING, and in favor of ACTION to meet growing NEEDS!"

Under the policies which Senator Barkley helped to shape, and under the action which he helped obtain when President Roosevelt was elected, the nation, Kentucky, and MORGAN COUNTY have profited.

Before the AAA program was adopted under these policies, Kentucky Burley tobacco growers in the years 1931, 1932 and 1933 received ONLY $26,000,000 each year. Kentucky Burley growers received $56,000,000 for their crops during each of the years 1936 and 1937. The income from dark tobacco was DOUBLED under the Roosevelt policies.

Under these policies which Senator Barkley helped to shape, the farmers of MORGAN COUNTY on June 30, 1937, had received the sum of $180,634 in BENEFIT PAYMENTS. These payments were divided as follows:

1936 Conservation Program.....$74,855 On Tobacco.....$87,193
Corn Hog.....$18,586

Among other federal funds which have come to MORGAN COUNTY under these policies of the Roosevelt administration are the following:

Works Progress Adm.....$628,097 Civil Works Adm.....$57,806
NYA Work Projects.....$56,160 NYA Student Aid.....$13,817
Federal Emergency Aid.....$307,121 Social Security Board.....$13,576

Under these policies that Senator Barkley helped to shape, citizens of MORGAN COUNTY have been able to SECURE HELP through LOANS from the federal government. Loans in this county total:

Farm Credit Adm.....$51,315 Farm Security Adm.....$63,579
Federal Land Bank.....$19,700 Land Bank Commissioner.....$157,300
Home Owners Loan Corp.....$14,141 Reconstruction Fin. Corp.....$15,000

MORGAN COUNTY has received many other blessings from these policies of the Roosevelt administration, in the shaping of which the President said SENATOR BARKLEY TOOK A MAJOR PART.

BARKLEY can, and DOES, do things for Kentucky, for MORGAN COUNTY. Kentucky and MORGAN COUNTY need him at Washington.

VOTE FOR BARKLEY FOR U.S. SENATOR ON AUGUST 6!

BOOTS

of Morgan County and the 8th Congressional District

It Is to Your Interest, the Interest of Your Community, County and District to Nominate on Aug. 6 and Reelect in November

JOE B. BATES FOR CONGRESS

For many years Joe Bates has been actively identified in Democratic final elections in Kentucky and in practically every State and National race he has been called upon to lead the fight for his party in the Eighth district. This duty he has always performed well and with credit and honor to his party.

Although Mr. Bates served only a few days as our Representative while Congress was in session, being elected to fill the place of Fred M. Vinson who resigned to accept a Federal judgeship, he was in a position to vote on a great many of the important measures passed at the last session. His record is open to the public—it will show that every vote he cast was favorable to the people of the Eighth district.

The Eighth District has been fortunate for many years in being represented by Fred Vinson, whose service to his people was second to no Congressman in the United States. Judge Vinson and Joe Bates have been life long friends and in every election in which Mr. Vinson was a candidate Mr. Bates assisted him in piling up the magnificent majorities that Fred Vinson received.

Joe Bates pledges himself to the people of this district to follow in the illustrious foot-steps of Fred Vinson and to adopt the policies and principles that Fred Vinson maintained for so many years to all his constituents including farmers and ex-service men and their families, and furthermore, Joe Bates is the only candidate for Congress in this district who has the endorsement of organized labor. He proved himself a friend to the laboring man during the time he served in the last session of Congress and in return has been honored by their endorsement.

The next session of Congress will, no doubt, have many important measures before it concerning the farmers of the Eighth district—principally those growing tobacco. Mr. Bates has already shown that he is interested in the welfare and well-being of the farmers, who comprise the greatest portion of this district and intends to cast his ballot at Washington for any legislation that will be to their interest and against any measure that would be detrimental to agriculture in these twenty counties. He fully understands the needs of the farmers, owning and operating a farm himself in Greenup county.

You will always find Mr. Bates' office open to his constituents and you will find, as have many others who have contacted him on matters relative to the Federal government, able and willing to assist you in any manner possible.
